

1st FAIR Annual Forum

fair

forum for anti-doping
in recreational sport

The first FAIR Annual Forum took place in Brussels the 31st October 2017.

Representatives of the sport food industries, anti-doping authorities, the European Committee for Standardization, the European Commission, professors and fitness professionals, etc... took part in a very interactive and fruitful forum on nutritional supplements for sports people compatible with doping prevention.

List of interventions:

- FAIR Project Overview - Cliff Collins, EuropeActive Director of Programmes
- FAIR PhD Project - Ismael Serrablo Torrejon, Coventry University
- The View of the European Commission on doping prevention - Olivier Fontaine, DG EAC Sport Unit
- The European Landscape of Actors and Actions of Supplements for Sports People - Prof Susan Backhouse, Leeds Beckett University - Erik Duiven, Anti-Doping Netherlands
- Dietary supplements and sports food free of doping substances and CEN/TC Working Group for developing standard for nutritional supplements free of doping substances - Irene Margaritis, ANSES

Participants discussed about the following points:

- how do we define athletes, recreational sport, and do we have an official definition for food supplement for sportspeople?
- the role and the strength of European standards in this field
- the involvement of stakeholders in the standard development procedure
- the independent supplement testing system
- future collaboration among iNADOs, food industry associations and organizations, sport associations and businesses
